DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 22-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

With respect to claim 22, "the control means" lacks proper antecedent basis and this claim remains vague and indefinite because the language is grammatically incorrect and unclear, for instance it is unclear as to what "are controlled by the microprocessor" as in line 5.

With respect to claim 23, this claim is found to be vague and indefinite because it merely recites a method limitation that fails to properly further limit the claimed apparatus of the claim from which it depends.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-21 and 25-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by either Detsch et al., U.S. patent No. 5,526,841 or 6,019,117.

Both Detsch et al., references teach a water line decontamination system for use in dental water lines. A container is provided for the handpieces or tools of the dental unit connected to a main water line. A secondary line is brought into controlled fluid communication with the lines and the handpieces in such a manner as to prevent backflow into the main water supply. A third line can also be provided to effect a purging of the lines with air or sterile water. The unit is valved and fully controlled in either an automated fashion or by manual activation by a user. See column 2, lines 25-35, column 4, line 25 through column 5, line 5 and column 6, line 65 through column 7, line 15 of '841 as exemplary. See particularly column 5 of the references.

Claims 1-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Castellini EP 734,692 A2.

Castellini teaches substantially the invention as claimed. A dental water decontamination system is taught employing a secondary line supplying disinfectant to the lines and the handpieces, with a third line for flushing the system with sterile water and the control means for all lines, including activation buttons for some selections by the dentist, as well as a microprocessor unit allowing for programmed, sequential control of all the activities of the lines. See the entire document and particularly column 6, line 52 through column 7, line 20.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 5/23/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that neither of the Detsch et al., patents, nor Castellini teach "switching means connected to the first control means" with the further recited function thereof as in newly amended claim 1, however, the Examiner would maintain that all cited references do teach apparatus meeting this language. Note particularly, the output selector manifold and toggle of the Detsch patents, and the microprocessor and control valving of Castellini.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
